monthly

IBI-EDBB Grad Student Mini-Symposium

Friday – January 19, 2018 – 17h00
EPFL – room SV1717

“Elucidating the Role of Phosphorylation on Huntingtin Structure and Function in Huntington’s Disease”

Anass Chiki
Lashuel Lab (LMNN)

“Rational Design of Synthetic Immunogens for Epitope-Focused Vaccination: a Case Study on RSV”

Che Yang
Correia Lab (LPDI)

session chair: Evgenii Glushkov (Radenovic Lab)
organizing faculty: Prof. Bruno Correia & Prof. Matteo Dal Peraro

Followed by a friendly get-together around pizza & beer, sponsored by the IBI

→ Next IBI-EDBB Mini-Symposium: February 2, 2018, 17h00 (calendar: https://bioengineering.epfl.ch/PhD_MiniSymp)
→ See current Bioengineering seminar/event calendar at https://bioengineering.epfl.ch/seminars